

Pink Spotted Lady Lenten Rose

Helleborus orientalis 'Pink Spotted Lady'

- Use: The blooms are 2 to 3 inches across, large enough to provide a strong visual and textural contrast to the dark green, coarsely edged leaves. From the Lady Series, the outward facing blooms grow in clusters above the leathery deep green foliage. Beloved by shade gardeners everywhere for thick evergreen leaves and winter blossoms in the shade. Excellent in drifts in woodland gardens.
- Exposure/Soil: Part sun-shade. Moist, well-drained soil, but not soggy. Good drainage is a must.
- Growth: Grows 18" tall and wide; multiplies well.
- Hardiness: Zone 4-8; Perennial
- Foliage: Evergreen, virtually problem free. Older leaves can be cut back in late August to showcase winter blossoms better.
- Flower: The salmon-pink blooms of Pink Spotted Lady add a welcome touch of bright color to a late winter / early spring yard, but it's the crimson freckles in the center of the blooms that give this plant its eye-catching appearance.

A must for color in the winter garden.
