Veronica 'Venice Blue'

- Use: Early blooming, the countless shorter spires with larger rich violet-blue blossoms sparkle against the toothed, glossy bright-green textured foliage. Like Venice, breathtaking and unforgettable! Commonly called Sawtoothed Veronica, Venice Blue with its compact, mounding habit is carefree and tidy. May have a late summer to fall rebloom if plants are trimmed back after first flowering in Spring.
- Exposure/Soil: Any well drained soil in part sun will do. Dislikes extreme drought, but otherwise tough and versatile.
- Growth: Grows 12-14" H x 10-12" W
- Hardiness: Zone 4-8; Perennial,
- Foliage: Deciduous; long leaves
- Flower: Clear blue spikes from spring to fall if spent flowers are pruned.
