

Azalea Congo / Purple Plum

Azalea 'Congo' (Robin Hill)

- Use: The Bloom 'N Again® Azaleas have been carefully selected for their repeat blooming habit and cold hardiness. All the Bloom 'N Again® Azaleas are evergreen shrubs good for planting in mass or integrated into a hedge or shrub border. With little need to prune, they are perfect for a naturalized area such as a shade or woodland garden. They have showy blooms in Spring and Fall. Dependent on growing conditions, most of the Bloom 'N Again® Azaleas start their fall blooming season in late September.
- Exposure/Soil: Part shade. Moist, well-drained soil, but not soggy.
- Growth: Moderate grower to 2 to 4 ft. tall and 3 to 5 ft. wide.
- Hardiness: 6-9; shrub
- Foliage: Tiny evergreen foliage on a low spreading form.
- Flower: Abundant purple pink blooms with darker purple centers and veins make a wonderful spring show and then again in the fall!

A Bloom and Again
Azalea!
Blooms in the spring and again in the fall.
