

Cara Cara Navel Orange Tree

- Cara Cara Oranges look like regular oranges on the outside, but with pink or red flesh on the inside. They're unlike any other oranges, making them fun and different!
- The Cara Cara Orange has notes of sweet berry flavors. Once you taste a Cara Cara Orange, you won't be able to forget how delicious it is. With a less acidic flavor than other oranges, this variety has a berry-like flavor.
- They have the benefits of a healthy snack. A few of the many benefits of Cara Cara Oranges are that they are low-calorie, fat-free, and full of vitamins and minerals. Give yourself a dose of vitamin A, vitamin C, fiber, potassium, protein, lycopene and antioxidants with every orange. They really are stacked with delicious and nutritious benefits.
- The citrus aroma provided by Cara Cara Trees is irresistible. It will naturally sweeten and freshen the air around your home. You'll no longer need candles or chemical sprays to give your house a clean, citrus scent!

Citrus x sinensis 'Cara Cara'

- Use: Cara Cara Oranges are a cousin to Blood Oranges and are a result of the cross-pollination of a Washington Navel Orange and a Brazilian Bahia Navel Orange. Once the white blossoms erupt, your Cara Cara Tree's citrus scent will be even stronger. The white flowers will pop against your tree's lush green foliage for an eye-catching display of color.
- Exposure/Soil: Full sun. Water regularly, when top 3 in. of soil is dry. Always hungry citrus need a lot of fertilizer.
- Growth: Even though it can reach 15-20 feet in height, but can handle any pruning necessary to keep it a preferred shape and size of about 8' tall.
- Hardiness: Zone 8-11; While the tree can overwinter in zone 8 our cold winters could possibly kill the graft so bring indoors below 40 degrees. Must be grown indoors in winter
- Foliage: Evergreen, glossy green foliage.
- Flower: Its flowers are a delicate white bloom, and their fragrance will carry easily to the bees and butterflies who will love to stop by for a visit.
- Fruit: Once the orange blossoms are pollinated, medium-sized, seedless oranges with red to pink flesh and an incredibly sweet citrus flavor are created.
