

12" Garden Globe

The 12" stainless steel gazing ball is made from quality stainless steel and is completely round. Unlike glass balls, they do not have a stem/throat or the ease of breakage. Designed as a garden accent they make a great reflective pop placed in a planter or garden bed. Used by countless artists who have used them as components in their imaginative designs as well as to and interior designers & hotels.

While stainless does not typically rust, oxidation can occur especially if exposed to chlorine. We suggest Bar Keeper's friend as an all purpose cleaner on stainless products.
