Lantan Luscious® Series

- Use: Tropical appearing shrub, but hardy! Plant characteristics are similar to other Lantanas. Fine for mass plantings and banks, or containers for poolside...attracts butterflies.
- Exposure/Soil: Full sun– part sun. Drought tolerant once established. Needs at least 6 hours afternoon sun. Sandy well drained soil preferred. Not tolerant of clay or will rot in winter.
- Growth: Trailing form of Lantana and will only get 12-20" in height with a 3 foot spread, depending on each cultivar.
- Hardiness: Zone 9a-11, Annual/Possible Perennial. Do not cut back stems until April of following spring. Be patient as they might not sprout until May! Water in the hollow stems will freeze out the roots in winter. Mulch heavily around the plant
- Foliage: Scented leaves. Deciduous. Lantana's foliage may change to a red to purple color in the colder months.
- Flower: The blooms appear in masses from spring to fall, and are great for attracting butterflies. Extremely heat tolerant. Beloved by butterflies.

Heat and sun tolerant; flowers all season; low maintenance.
