

Rosy Charm Abelia

The beautiful flowers, foliage, and form of glossy abelia make it an excellent choice for hedges, low screens, massed plantings, or even as a single solution for a difficult corner. The agreeable shape and texture of glossy abelia combine with its delicately charming flowers to make this shrub an easy plant to use in a wide range of landscape and garden settings. The marvelously long blooming season of glossy abelia offers pleasingly dependable, transitional interest from spring to summer and into fall as other more showy plants pass in and out of peak bloom.

Abelia x 'Cloud 99-6-7' PPAF

- Use: Rosy Charm® isn't bashful when it comes to blooming - this abelia is covered in red-purple blooms starting in May and lasting until frost. With all the reliable performance qualities that make abelias a popular landscape plant - drought tolerance, deer resistance, and the ability to handle heat (plus one of the more cold-tolerant abelias on the market) - you'll soon succumb to this one's charms as well!
- Exposure/Soil: Full sun to part sun; moist, well drained soil; dislikes wet sites. Water regularly, when top 3 in. of soil is dry.
- Growth: Grows 6-8' tall and 7-9' wide.
- Hardiness: Zone 6b -9 Shrub
- Foliage: Evergreen. The leaves are multi-colored variegated - that means they are green with gold and cream streaks up the sides. In winter those streaks turn pink on the youngest leaves. This color change is so pretty and fittingly moody for winters.
- Flower: Offers up flowers and fragrance that will delight you and pollinators alike, from May until fall.
