

Lemon Glow Camellia

One of the most unique Camellia hybrids on the market today, Jury's Yellow is a rare jewel that blooms from late fall through early spring!

Camellia japonica* 'Lemon Glow'

- Use: This sport of 'Dahlohnega' appears slightly more yellow in the flower than its parent plant. Small to medium-sized, formal double, soft creamy yellow flowers held against the starkly contrasting foil of deep green foliage are produced in mid to late season, January to April. Lemon Glow Camellia is a highly sought after, large flowered Japonica with a slow rate of growth and an upright to rounded, densely branching habit. Its slower growth habit lends this cultivar to container culture and bonsai as well as a prized addition to the garden and landscape.
- Exposure: Prefers sheltered site from hot afternoon sun, in partial shade. Best in moist, acidic, organically amended, well-drained soil.
- Growth: A mid-size Camellia with an upright habit of growth to about 8 to 10 feet tall and 6 to 8 feet wide. Slow grower.
- Hardiness: Zone 6-9; Shrub
- Foliage: Evergreen; Vigorous, compact, upright, evergreen shrub, valued for glossy green foliage.
- Flower: The medium sized fully-double, lemon yellow flowers are outstanding against the green foliage. Early to late season. Prune only right after blooms fade.
