Camellia sasanqua 'Autumn Rocket'

- Use: A beauty and fast grower in the garden, 'Autumn Rocket' is an upright, narrow growing fall flowering Camellia sasanqua featuring abundant, anemone-like pure white flowers with tightly ruffled creamy, soft yellow center petals in fall. Its narrow form allows for use in smaller garden spaces where other varieties won't fit. The shiny, finely toothed, deep green foliage is a wonderful backdrop and contrast for the bright white flowers.
- Exposure: Prefers sheltered site, prefers a little bit of shade form afternoon sun, and any well drained neutral/acid soil.
- Growth: Moderate growing 8-10 ft. tall, and only 3 to 4 ft. wide.
- Hardiness: Zone 6-10; Shrub
- Foliage: Evergreen; Small glossy green leaves have year round appeal in the garden.
- Flower: Featuring abundant, anemone-like pure white flowers with tightly ruffled creamy, soft yellow center petals in fall. Prune only right after blooms fade.
