Fatsia japonica 'Variegata'

- Use: Japanese Aralia is a perfect foundation plant that provides rich green background foliage in partially shaded landscapes. Its large exotic leaves belie its ability to withstand some frost. Perfect lush foliage for absorbing glare around swimming pools and water gardens. Good subject for night lighting. Prized for its unique, highly textural foliage, it often blooms fall to winter, producing showy panicles of white flower clusters.
- Exposure/Soil: Part sun-shade; well-draining soil and appreciates slow release fertilizer. Water when top 3 in of soil is dry.
- Growth: Moderate grower to 5-8' tall, equal width. It takes about 3 years for it to show the wonderful mature characteristics, so be patient.
- Hardiness: Zone 7-10; Shrub or Houseplant. We recommend you plant them on a protected wall away from extreme winter cold. For those who garden in the arctic zones north of Zone 7, these make superb houseplants.
- Foliage: Evergreen; Exquisite melding of yellow, lime and green leaves.
- Flowers: White flower clusters are followed by black berries.
