Viburnum 'Yin'

- Use: Satisfy your need for handsome, high-quality foliage with Yin viburnum! This innovative new selection from Dr. Tom Ranney combines the timeless, sophisticated evergreen foliage of David viburnum with the heat tolerance of Chinese viburnum for a useful plant that goes well beyond its former mild-climate-only range. Thick, leathery leaves are deeply veined and are accompanied by white flowers in spring. If planted with companion Yang viburnum, you'll also look forward to amazing blue fruits. It's a true four-season beauty! Both Yin™ and Yang™ will grow nicely without tons of pruning, making them easy to maintain in gardens and landscapes.
- Exposure/Soil: Easily grown in average, medium moisture, well-drained soils in full sun to part shade. Prefers moist loams, but tolerates a wide range of soils. Established plants have some drought tolerance. Prune as needed immediately after flowering. Tolerates clay and growing under black walnut trees.
- Growth: Quickly growing to 2-4' tall and 4' wide.
- Hardiness: Zone 7b-9; Shrub
- Foliage: Deciduous. Thick, leathery leaves are deeply veined. Foliage is deer resistant, but deer will eat flowers.
- Flower: You want both of them because you need them to pollinate one another in order to get the blue fruit in fall. They're handsome enough without fruit, though.

Features: Compact, Heat tolerant, Alkaline soil, Attracts pollinators, Deer resistant, Disease resistant, Evergreen, Winter interest
