

Chindo Sweet Viburnum

Viburnum awabuki 'Chindo'

- Use: Excellent dense tall hedge with the bonus of fragrant spring blooms. Lustrous dark green leaves back clusters of white flowers followed by red berries that later turn black. Awabuki is one of the fastest growing viburnums available.
- Exposure/Soil: Full to part sun. Best grown in moist, fertile soils but can be forgiving of slightly less conditions.
- Growth: Grows 12 feet tall and 8' wide. Grows unchecked as a large shrub, but can easily be trimmed into a small, multi-branched tree with a natural round canopy.
- Hardiness: Zone 7-11; Shrub
- Foliage: Evergreen. The leaves emerge light green, turning dark green and reaching up to eight inches long; they are very lustrous and have a leathery texture to them. It's best to prune in late winter to promote even, uniform growth throughout the summer – it won't hurt to prune the excessive growth midsummer to put another flush round of foliage before winter.
- Flower: Fragrant white blooms appear in the late spring, leaving red berries soon after that turn black by the fall, attracting birds easily.

Very easy to grow and fast!
