

Miles High Deodar Cedar

Great focal point and specimen in parks and small gardens. Give this tree a prominent place to shine in your garden.

Cedrus deodora 'Miles High'

- Use: An attractive focal point that puts a tall exclamation point on the landscape, and sure to be a conversation piece, this cedar is an excellent evergreen for adding height to the landscape. It's narrow, weeping, columnar form allows it to fit in smaller spaces where its much larger growing cousins won't fit.
- Exposure/Soil: Full to part sun. Follow a regular watering schedule during the first growing season to establish a deep, extensive root system. Watering can be reduced after establishment. Feed with a general purpose fertilizer before new growth begins in spring. Pruning time: winter.
- Growth: A moderate grower that might reach 10 to 12 feet tall and 3 feet wide in 10 years, and upwards of 30 feet tall and 6 to 10 feet over the long term, it has a tall central leader.
- Hardiness: Zone 6-11; Tree
- Foliage: Evergreen. Grey– green needles.
- Flower: 3 to 4" bluish green cones on female trees.
